DEFENSE COMPUTER FORENSICS LABORATORY EXAMINATION REQUEST FORM FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY

1. ACCEPTANCE OF TERMS

The Defense Computer Forensic Laboratory (DCFL) provides its services (defined below) to you ("the Customer") subject to the following Terms of Service (TOS), which may be updated by us, from time to time without notice to you. The most current version of the TOS will be attached to the DCFL Form 1 – Laboratory Submission Form (and the DCFL Form 1C – Examination Request Form). By filling out and signing this form you accept and agree to be bound by the terms and provision of the TOS. In addition, materials and information you submit to DCFL (such as evidence or victim information) are subject to DCFL policy guidelines and procedures applicable to such items. Policy guidelines and procedures are hereby incorporated into the TOS.

2. DESCRIPTION OF DCFL SERVICES

The DCFL works to ensure standardized, efficient case processing and examination to ensure customers receive the maximum benefit from examination results and other DCFL products and services. This effort is conducted using a rich collection of resources including, without limitation or minimum, various forensic and support tools, procedures, protocols, and methods that conform to accepted and standard practices in the forensic community.

The DCFL will conduct a full or limited examination of provided evidence submitted to DCFL, bounded by the terms outlined by customer on the DCFL Form 1 (1C), and in accordance to DCFL standard operating procedures and instructions, and to the extent of the DCFL's capabilities.

Where a case submission requires equipment to be ordered for processing, any remainder of work on the case will be processed separately. Should the required equipment be unavailable, this fact will be communicated with the customer and the media unable to be processed will be returned to the customer unexamined.

Case submissions with special devices (e.g. cell phone, PDA, Xbox) will be processed in a manner to prevent unnecessary holdups in the completion of the case examination, and provide the customer with key case information most expediently.

Evidence sent to the DCFL requiring a damaged media recovery (DMR) procedure to be performed will not be processed until all necessary equipment is in place.

3. GENERAL PRACTICES REGARDING CASE PROCESSING

From time to time DCFL may deviate from its standard processes in order to use the most efficient and practicable solution to serve the customer.

4. YOUR SUBMISSION OBLIGATIONS

When requesting a case to be processed by the DCFL, the Customer must complete a Form 1 or Form 1C in order to outline the services requested, media submitted, and key background information relevant to the investigation. This will assist DCFL analysts in pinpointing useful data, depth of examination requested, and other pertinent information regarding the request.

7. GENERAL PRACTICES REGARDING EVIDENCE

Strict evidence handling and storage procedures will be conducted by the laboratory at all times.

DCFL takes exacting care in ensuring its processes do not alter or modify evidence. However, should this event occur, the customer will be notified as soon as the alteration is recognized.

Should evidence require alternation in order to process it (e.g. a damaged media recovery process), the customer will be notified of this fact and will make the decision to perform this process or not, if DCFL policy allows.

Discrepancies in evidence will be double checked according to DCFL procedures, and once the discrepancy is verified, the customer will be contacted for resolution. The actions taken in the resolution of evidence discrepancies will be documented and recorded in the case file.
